THIS IS THE WAY LEARNING CENTER

This is the Way

Learning Center

This is the Way Learning Center cares for and educates children age 6 weeks and up. We are dedicated to the future of your child, to creating a lifetime love of learning at every age and stage. It is our promise and our pride. We are a place where children feel secure. Where play is a priority, but where that play is carefully designed to develop children's social and school skills. What can be more precious or important than the early developmental and learning years of our children?

Our educational providers are caring people, selected for their experience, education and commitment to providing the highest level of physical, mental and emotional development for your child. We understand that all children are unique in personality and development stages and we are dedicated to providing the utmost level of excellence in child care.

This is the Way Learning Center offers a diverse palate of learning tools that address the normal development stages and prepare your children for kindergarten, elementary school and beyond.

Curriculum

Infants - We offer infant care that is warm, responsive and essential for healthy development of your infant. Your baby's environment is enriched with educational materials, and music. Daily progress reports provide information on care routines like eating, napping and diapering.

Toddlers - Toddlers are beginning to think through their actions, solve problems and understand language. They thrive on new experiences, so we provide them with a safe, nurturing environment that allows each child to develop naturally, individually and happily. Daily progress reports provide information on care routines like eating, napping and diapering.

Twos - Your two-year old's sense of discovery is sparked by providing an enriching, colorful environment that offers a wide variety of educational materials and toys. Because your two-year old is learning words so quickly and beginning to express thoughts, we use activities like nursery rhymes, reading books aloud and songs to expand your child's language skills. We provide a fun, safe environment filled with self-directed activities, giving your child the independence he or she is so eager to enjoy while helping prepare your child to make the transition into preschool.

Preschool - We know that you want your child to be cared for by teachers who keep your child safe, and nurtured based on their individual personality and unique abilities. We encourage your child's development. We provide an atmosphere where your child can make friends and share the fun of learning with other children.
